

About

Nelson Marlborough Institute of Technology is a high quality Government owned tertiary education provider which is based at the top of the South Island in New Zealand.

Kia ora tatou

For over 115 years, Nelson Marlborough Institute of Technology has been providing high quality tertiary education for students just like you. Our internationally talented staff are entirely dedicated to giving you the real world skills and a recognised qualification to embark on the career you deserve.

I know you'll find that future right here, at NMIT.

Wayne Jackson, Chief Executive